Message from Rector & Correspondent

Dear Parents,
Cordial greetings. Happy to contact you through this DBXpressions.
I would like speak about two important events that took place in the second term.

Grandparents Day

The Kindergarten and Grade I and II had their Grandparents Day on 28 October 2023. A meaningful celebration of the bond between grandparents and grandchildren. One of the core values of Don Bosco educational system is building children towards healthy relationships. Bonding between grandparents and grandchildren is one of the crucial relationships for a growing child, especially in our Indian context. Writer Susan Bosak says, "Children who have strong ties with involved and caring grandparents develop higher self-esteem, better emotional and social skills including an ability to withstand peer pressure and enhanced academic performance." We could visibly see these in our families and school. Hence, we took the chance to honour the wise senior members of our families. It's is not just an external celebration but strengthening of a meaningful bond. Let's cultivate a habit of appreciating people who matter to us.

Share to Care Day

Another important event that took place at DBX was the Share to Care Programme. 'I am not a loner in the planet. I share this life with my fellow human beings. I need to look around and see how I can share my blessings with the most disadvantaged.' This is the motive behind all the activities of Share to Care. We are very grateful to all the parents, family members and friends for being so generous towards helping the poor children in and around Coimbatore. With your support were able to organize one day of fun, games, cultural events and offer scholarship for many poor privileged children. Our students were so active and generous in participating in all the events in favour of the poor little ones.

Rector and Correspondent.

Message from the Principal's Desk

Dear parents and Children,
Cordial greetings to each one of you. I am glad to connect with you through this Emagazine and share a few thoughts of mine.

Being with the children and engaging in their education processes have been an immensely joyous and rewarding experience for me personally. Watching these innocent kids grow and mature as morally sound human beings is a pure joy for us educators. In spite of all the negativity being spewed around them they continue to grow as mature human beings respecting others and loving them despite all their differences on the basis of religion, caste, creed, culture and language.

I take the liberty to suggest a few key points based on my experience with the children for the past few years as a principal to help the children to grow as a better human person.

1. Encourage and appreciate our wards

The children need lots of appreciation and encouragement from the parents and elders. Few years back I visited a family. The child in the family approached and showed her achievement medals in the competition held in her school. I appreciated and gave her a chocolate which I took with me. I forgot the episode almost immediately. But she remembers it till date and narrated the event every time I meet her. "Everyone wants to be appreciated, so if you want to appreciate someone, don't keep it a secret." are the words of Mary kay Ash. So, let's appreciate and give a pat on the back.

2. Call spade as a spade

The role model for a child in the early years are the parents. We the elders need to shape and mould the young minds with our exemplary life style. The world is changing rapidly. The value systems are not being diluted. But we need a culture and value system to be live as a happy society. We need to teach them to differentiate between good and evil. Let's avoid ambiguity and call the spade as a spade when the wards make mistakes. Of course in a gentle and kind manner.

3. Humanity not hatred

The AI world is changing the rules of the game. Human nature is being altered incrementally. We are born as human beings, but living as a human being is a life time project. "Love and compassion are necessities not luxuries. Without them, humanity cannot survive" are the words of Dalai Lama. It is time to show love and compassion instead of hatred. We need to show the seed of love among children and not the vengeance of hatred.

Let's create a world of love and compassion filled with humanity.

Fr. Martin
The principal.
